

Nomination

Colby-Sawyer College

Staff Employee of the Year – 2001

Doug Minor

Public Relations Specialist

A lot of people on campus do not know who Doug Minor is because he doesn't get to share the spotlight he shines on the College. Doug is the author of 'This Month at Colby-Sawyer,' the creative mastermind behind the snappy new ads we see in the shopper, and his writing is a big reason the College is enjoying so much positive attention by the press. Doug is a major player in improvements to the design of the College web site too. Doug kept the public relations department going while they were "in between" directors, and has kept the Web Counsel on track. Doug is the only employee. Doug is a devoted member of the Colby-Sawyer College community who works to make us all aware of, and appreciate, the good things going on at the college.

Doug deserves to have the spot light turned on him for a change.

Submitted by a staff member

